

WILSON PROBABLY WINS
RE-ELECTION AS PRESIDENT

Prospects in the Close States Favor Wilson in California and Hughes in Minnesota — Wilson 5,000 Ahead in the Former — Vote Very Close in the Latter State

NEW HAMPSHIRE IN THE WILSON COLUMN

North Dakota Also Probably Democratic and West Virginia Republican — From Present Indications Wilson Will Have 273, Mr. Hughes 258 Electoral Votes — McCormick Says "It's All Over"

New York, Nov. 9.—The election passed into the second day of uncertainty, with President Wilson and Charles E. Hughes both anxiously awaiting the count in a few states. Although still so close that the result could not be regarded as sure, the indicative overnight returns seemed to dispose of previously doubtful states by placing West Virginia's eight votes in the Hughes column and giving the four votes of Idaho and the seven from Washington to Wilson. The Hughes total thus became 243 and Wilson's 251, with 266 necessary to elect.

The states in which the result was still in doubt to-day were New Hampshire with four votes, California with 13, Minnesota with 12, New Mexico with three, and North Dakota with five. The early figures to-day gave Wilson a lead of nearly 5,000 in California, with one-tenth of the precincts to be heard from. In Minnesota, Hughes had a slight advantage, and he also led by a small margin in New Mexico. In North Dakota Wilson was leading, while in New Hampshire the vote was very close.

"IT'S ALL OVER,"
SAYS MCCORMICK

Democratic Campaign Manager Sticks to Figures That Wilson Has Won with 288 Electoral Votes.

New York, Nov. 9.—At noon to-day Chairman McCormick issued a statement, saying: "It's all over; we have cleaned them up. We stick unflinchingly to the original figures—Wilson by 288 electoral votes." He added that every precaution is being taken to protect the ballot boxes where the vote is running close.

HUGHES IN W. VIRGINIA.
His Present Plurality is Well Toward 20,000.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 9.—Mr. Hughes' lead over President Wilson in West Virginia was suddenly increased by 1,538.

One thousand, one hundred and thirty-five precincts for governor gives Robinson, Republican, 94,777; Cornell, Democrat, 95,709.

One thousand, one hundred and thirty-five precincts for United States senator gave Sutherland, Republican, 96,451; Chilton, Democrat, 96,960.

Hughes' present plurality is 1,772. If the same ratio is maintained throughout the state Hughes' plurality will be 2,570.

CLAIMS CALIFORNIA.

Chairman Rowell of Republican State Ticket Says Lead Will Be Small.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 9.—Chester H. Rowell, chairman of the Republican state central committee, predicted last night Hughes' election in California by a small majority. Mr. Rowell's statement follows:

"Figures gathered by the Los Angeles office of the Republican state committee covering more than 1,000 precincts and close estimates of the remaining indicate that Hughes will carry Los Angeles county by 23,000."

DELAWARE'S TOTAL VOTE.

Gives State to Hughes by a Little Over One Thousand.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 9.—The complete vote in Delaware, according to unofficial returns follows:

Wilson 22,825; Hughes, 23,683. United States Senator Josiah W. Walcott, Democrat, 21,979; H. A. Dupont, Republican, 20,110.

Members of Congress, A. A. Polk, Democrat, 21,262; T. W. Miller, Republican, 21,215.

170,000 PLURALITY.

For Hughes in Pennsylvania on Uncomplete Returns.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 9.—As additional election districts are heard from, Charles E. Hughes' plurality in Pennsylvania continues to grow. Returns from 5,440 districts out of 6,968 gave him a plurality of 169,839 over President Wilson, of which 125,463 was contributed by Philadelphia and Allegheny county, which takes in Pittsburgh. The total figures for the 5,449 districts are: Wilson, 419,225; Hughes 589,064.

Returns from the congressional districts which, however, may be changed

WILSON LEAD IS REDUCED IN N. DAKOTA

Less Than One Thousand Votes Separate the Two Candidates, with Nearly Two Hundred Precincts Missing

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 9.—Errors in tabulating returns from a number of western precincts in North Dakota disclosed on recapitulation at noon to-day cut down Wilson's lead more than 200 votes. With 1887 out of 1839 precincts reported, Wilson had 51,474 and Hughes 50,772.

VERY SMALL LEAD IN GREAT STATE

Wilson Has 4,523 Over Hughes in California, with Several Hundred Precincts Unreported.

San Francisco, Nov. 9.—Returns from 5,364 out of 5,917 precincts in California give Hughes 436,839 and Wilson 441,362, a majority of 4,523 for Wilson.

DEMOCRATS MAY CONTROL HOUSE AS WELL AS SENATE

By Holding 10 Seats in the 21 Congressional Districts Yet to Be Heard From.

New York, Nov. 9.—The Democrats, assured of control of the next Senate, may retain control of the House by holding 10 seats in 21 congressional districts yet to be heard from. Early to-day the division of the members already elected was: Democrats 210, Republicans 200, Progressives 2, Independent 1, Socialist 1.

If the unreported districts hold their present political status the Democrats would have a majority of five in the next House, which would stand, as follows: Democrats 220, Republicans 211, minority parties 4.

TO INVESTIGATE COUNTS.

Atty. Gen. Gregory Confers with Chairman McCormick.

New York, Nov. 9.—Atty. Gen. Gregory went into conference with Chairman McCormick at Democratic headquarters yesterday afternoon. No statement was made as to the subject of the conference, but reports were current that the question of investigating the count in New Hampshire and other doubtful states was under consideration.

WILSON WON'T COMMENT.

Although News Given Him Was Almost Entirely Favorable.

Long Branch, N. J., Nov. 9.—Shortly before noon President Wilson was given a complete summary of the news to date, including word that Senator Hollis claimed New Hampshire. Although the word transmitted to Wilson was almost entirely favorable he reserved judgment.

WILSON'S IMMEDIATE PLANS

Are to Attend Christening of Granddaughter Friday.

Long Branch, N. J., Nov. 9.—Regardless of the outcome of the election, President Wilson plans to leave here Friday morning for Williamstown, Mass., where he will attend the christening Friday morning of the younger child of Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, his daughter.

From Williamstown he will go to Washington, arriving there Sunday night. His plans for the interim between then and the opening of Congress in December have not been made.

LOST WOMAN FOUND.

Mrs. Sadie Coats of Enfield Was Missing a Day.

Enfield, N. H., Nov. 9.—Mrs. Sadie Coats, who was lost Tuesday and for whom 60 men have been hunting, was found near the sugarhouse on the Frank Haskins place, late yesterday afternoon, where she had evidently been for some time, sitting upon a large rock.

She was wet and cold, but otherwise all right, and will recover from the effects of her 28 hours' exposure. The community has been greatly stirred over this event and there is much relief felt and expressed at this hour.

Mrs. Coats said she became faint with walking and could go no further. She had lost her rubbers in crossing swampy land, but seemed not to realize that she had been out so long.

Mrs. Coats has made her home for years with Mrs. L. A. L. Vento, who lives on the main road to Enfield Center at North Enfield.

She went out Tuesday for her usual midday walk—going toward Enfield Center to be gone for a half hour.

At the end of an hour when she did not return, Mrs. Vento went out in search of her. She traced her to Spaulding's corner, where she was seen to take the road that leads to Lockhaven. She was seen passing on this road by several residents and was last seen by Rural Mail Carrier Hastings on the Lockhaven road between the Hadstrom house and the clubhouse at Crystal Lake.

Mrs. Coats was warmly dressed, wearing a warm skirt, an outing flannel dress and a warm cape and gloves, but no hat. Mrs. Coats is a semi-invalid but has been in very good health of late. She started out on this walk with no indication of either illness or low spirits.

When Mrs. Vento was unable to find her in her first search, she returned home and advised the neighbors. Willis Dresser, the next neighbor with men, started in search and Selectmen Egg and Cochran with men from Enfield village went out also and made search in the wood, along the lakeside, hunting about the lake cottages, but no trace had been found of the missing woman. By telephone word went out to all homes in the direction of her going. Search was abandoned at midnight but begun yesterday morning, ending at dusk with the finding of Mrs. Coats.

TWO DEATHS HIGH IN AIR.

Were Experimenting with Explosives in an Aeroplane.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—Two naval officers lost their lives yesterday afternoon at Indian Head, Maryland, when a new bomb they were experimenting with in an airplane exploded while the machine was 100 feet up. The airplane and its two occupants were blown to atoms. This statement was issued at the navy department.

Lieut. Luther Walsh and Lieut. C. K. Bronson were killed this afternoon by the premature explosion of an airplane bomb during experimental work in testing bombs for use against vessels.

"The bomb detonated immediately beneath the airplane. It was seen to detonate and the airplane to break in two and fall into the river."

"Hardly any trace of the airplane or passengers has been located yet. A portion of a human stomach has been recovered from the river, but that is all. This occurred at 2:45 p. m. to-day."

"The experiments were being conducted by Lieut. Wilkinson as representative of the bureau of ordinance."

Lieut. Bronson, a naval flyer, was piloting the machine and Lieut. Walsh was handling the bomb. Naval officers here are inclined to believe that when the bomb was thrown from the machine it struck a guy wire or some other part of the airplane. Lieut. Walsh tried to drop the bomb on an object in the Potomac river representing part of a ship.

A searching party went to the scene immediately and fished the river. All they found of the airplane was part of the tail.

Lieut. Bronson was born in Illinois 27 years ago and was appointed to the naval academy from New York. He was attached to the naval aeronautic station at Pensacola, Fla., and recently ordered to Indian Head to conduct the airplane part of the ordinance tests.

Lieut. Walsh was born in and appointed from Missouri. He was stationed as an ordnance officer at the Indian Head proving grounds and was with Lieut. Bronson as passenger.

RECEPTION TO CAPT. KOENIG.
New London Citizens Gave Banquet to Submarine Commander.

New London, Conn., Nov. 9.—New London's citizens last night gave a reception and banquet to Capt. Paul Koenig and crew of the German merchant submarine Deutschland.

A gold watch, bearing the seal of the city, was presented to the captain and his men were given silver match cases and fountain pens.

The submarine will be loaded to-day and it is understood she may make her dash homeward Friday afternoon. It was reported last night that the German war submarine U-57 was expected off Pleasure beach—15 miles to the westward—on Friday, but there was no confirmation.

HELD ANNUAL MEETING.
Vermont Holstein-Friesian Club at St. Johnsbury.

St. Johnsbury, Nov. 9.—The Vermont Holstein-Friesian club held their regular semi-annual meeting at the St. Johnsbury house Wednesday afternoon. The business meeting commenced about noon and was followed by a banquet for the members and the club guests. The speaker of the afternoon was Gen. C. W. Wood of Worcester, Mass., ex-president of the national association. Following the address, pictures of nationally known Holstein cattle were shown and their pedigree given.

At the business meeting held before dinner, minutes of the annual meeting were read and corrections made. Other necessary business was transacted. About 30 members of the state association were present besides invited guests.

FUNERAL OF GEORGE COME.

Was Held from St. Sylvester's Church in Graniteville.

Funeral services for George Come, who died Sunday at his home in Williamstown after a long illness, were held Wednesday at St. Sylvester's church, Graniteville, Rev. Fr. Turcott officiating. Robert Emmett Come, No. 564, attended in a body and there was a large gathering of those who came to pay their last respects to the deceased.

Burial was in the new Catholic cemetery at lower Websterville, six members of the court, Joseph Bedard, Michael Duquette, Henry Giguere, Alphonse Nédan, Amédée Rouleau and Mr. Bourlance, acting as bearers.

Three sisters of the deceased, Mrs. Josephine of Burlington, Mrs. Mary Lagore of Burlington and Mrs. Nora Anon of Redford, N. Y., were present at the funeral.

TWO MEN GORED.

Were Attacked on Elmer Darling Farm in East Burke.

St. Johnsbury, Nov. 9.—Edward Duval of St. Johnsbury and Charles Fretot of East Burke, carpenters, at work on the Elmer Darling farm at East Burke, were gored by a bull yesterday. Duval was brought to his home here painfully injured.

The bull was in the barnyard and attacked the men as they were at work.

ENTERTAINED BIG CROWD.

Old-Fashioned Singin' Skewl at Congregational Vestry.

Closing with an old-fashioned singin' skewl last night, the annual fair of the Congregational ladies proved one of the most successful ever held, and when the final accounting of funds is made, the treasury of the women's association will be considerably enriched.

At least 300 people attended the singin' skewl and enjoyed the rendering of the old-fashioned songs and the costumes that were in style a generation ago. Those taking part were Mrs. W. H. Gale, Mrs. Carl Eisenwinter, Mrs. Gladys Bradley, Mrs. Will Holden, Mrs. H. G. Woodruff, Mrs. F. D. Ladd, Mrs. Abbie D. Willey, Misses Elsa Ramage, Glee Wood, Katherine Young, Hazel Partridge, Katherine Martin, Merle Gow, Margaret Woodruff, Mabel Taylor, Rachel Robinson and John T. Hubbard, Elizabeth J. Dole, Fred Inglis, Leonard Hutchinson, Dr. Joe Jackson, James Robertson and Guy Ohtolmi, while "Cy" (Arthur) Bigelow made a director who kept his skewl right up to their places, and Miss Mary Lease of the seminary faculty was accompanist for the evening and played a few notes on an old hand melodeon.

The garb of the singin' skewl pupils was as varied as could be imagined, poke bonnets, pantalettes, curls and real hair-locks being produced for the event and many of these same articles, which have been carefully preserved, some of them for more than a century, no money could buy. As times goes on and the customs of a generation ago are all changed, to possess some of the articles then in use becomes a real privilege. In knee breeches, white stockings and wigs, part of the male members of the skewl were clothed.

There were numerous selections from Father Kemp's collection of old-fashioned songs, and these were interspersed with readings, solos and duets. True to the old-time style, the members of the skewl beat the time as they sang and when the air ran in a particularly fitting way, the head often accompanied the hand in the time-beating movement. One selection was sung by note and it was evident that Conductor Bigelow had a pretty talented bunch of male and female singers in his charge.

"Squire Martin's gal, Abigail, (Katherine) and Zabel (Elizabeth) Dole, the schoolmaster, sang a piece together, "Dost Thou Love Me, Sister Ruth" and the audience could but admire the demure maiden who acknowledged Zabel's declaration made her "feel queer."

Miss Jerusha Jenkins, none other than Mrs. Abbie D. Willey, denounced the evils of the present world in a recitation that was thoroughly enjoyed, deciding that for those who wished to be good this world was no place for them.

"Uncle Josh" (Charles) Bigelow of Brookfield came to town to address his son's singin' skewl and, incidentally, those who gathered for the final concert, and gave a recitation, entitled, "Old Times and New," a comparison of the times when the Pilgrims landed on the Massachusetts shores and those of to-day. This was much enjoyed.

"My Grandma's Advice" was sung by Miss Melitable (Glee) Wood in a very pleasing manner and she was obliged to respond to an encore. The singin' skewl extra closed with the singing of "Cousin Jedediah" by Jeremiah (Fred) Inglis in the solo part, the class joining in on the chorus, and this, too, demanded an encore.

The concert was much enjoyed and at intermission ice cream was on sale, a tidy sum being received therefrom.

Many of those attending the concert lingered long about the tables in the church parlors and before the last one had departed most of the articles in every line that had been on sale had been more than pleased with the result of the efforts that had been put forth to make the affair a success.

MORE COURT OPINIONS.

Handed Down by Vermont Supreme Court—One Case Argued.

Opinions were rendered as follows during the afternoon session yesterday of the supreme court:

Caledonia county—Martin D. Turner vs. D. J. Howard, apt. verdict for defendant reversed. Citizens Savings Bank & Trust Co., vs. Amanda Jenkins, George W. Jenkins and Sherrill Lang, decision for orator to recover smaller sum affirmed, Haselton.

Peck, administrator, with the will annexed, of the estate of Edward W. Peck, was argued to-day in supreme court. The case has been continued several times and was placed at the head of this term's trial calendar.

TO TEST ADAMSON LAW.

Union Pacific Railroad Co. Files Suit in Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 9.—The Union Pacific Railroad company filed suit in the federal court here yesterday to test the constitutionality of the eight-hour law recently passed by Congress and known as the Adamson act. Thomas S. Allen, United States district attorney, and four Union Pacific trainmen representing the different railroad brotherhoods are made parties defendant.

The bill of complaint alleges that the law is unconstitutional because it is not a proper regulation of interstate commerce, because it violates the guarantees of the fifth amendment to the federal constitution and because it is unworkable as applied to existing conditions under which the trainmen are operating.

Mrs. Nina Mewatt of Pearl street was taken to the City hospital yesterday for an operation.

CHILD TODDLED
TO HIS DEATH

Literally Beheaded by Engine on Berlin Street Crossing

TRAINMEN UNABLE OF OCCURENCE

Woman Saw Accident but She Could Not Save the Child

The Barre & Chelsea yard shifter, Granite City, ran over and killed Stephen Aja, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Aja of 27 Berlin street, on the Berlin street crossing late yesterday afternoon. The crew did not see the child, nor was the engineer, his fireman or the conductor aware that an accident had occurred until Harry Arrigoni, a barber, hurried to the crossing and snatched the little one's body from the rails just as the switch locomotive, in returning south toward the street was about to run over the boy again. Mrs. Alex McKenzie appears to have been the only eye witness. She saw the child start to cross the tracks toward North Main street, but could not reach the crossing in time to avert an accident. The barber, Arrigoni, was at work in his shop in his basement of the Griffin store when he was attracted by Mrs. McKenzie's cries for assistance. Dropping his shears, he raced to the crossing in time to snatch the body of the child from the rails. He laid the little one in the grass and covered him with his apron before notifying the train men.

Meanwhile Mrs. McKenzie had sent an emergency call into the telephone central office and a doctor, ambulance and police were soon on their way to the scene. Health Officer Dr. J. W. Stewart viewed the remains and Chief Sinclair, who hurried to the crossing with Deputy Sheriff G. L. Morris, conducted an investigation before the body was transferred to the ambulance. Dr. Stewart found that one of the wheel flanges had literally beheaded the young one and there was an arm fracture.

The Granite City was bound for the north end of the yard on a shunting expedition when the accident occurred. They were advised that the child had been killed when Arrigoni, after removing the body from the track, signalled them to stop as they approached the crossing. Engineer A. P. Burnham was at the throttle and Conductor R. H. Brown was in charge of the train. The fireman assigned to the shifter was L. P. Whittemore. Besides his parents the child leaves a younger brother and a brother three years old. The elder Aja is engaged in the meat business.

The funeral will be held at the house Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery on Beckley street.

SERIOUSLY INJURED IN FALL IN QUARRY

Thomas Brady, Hurt at the J. K. Pirie Quarry, Was Brought to the City Hospital This Afternoon.

Thomas Brady, a quarryman employed in the J. K. Pirie quarry, was brought to the City hospital this afternoon suffering from serious injuries sustained in a fall in the quarry early this afternoon. An inquiry at the office of the quarry brought forth the statement that the cause of the accident was not known there but that Brady either fell or was knocked from the edge of the quarry during the noon hour. Dr. G. L. T. Hayes was called to the quarry and the injured man was ordered brought to the hospital. It is understood that Brady struck on his head and that his injuries are very serious. He is about 30 years of age.

GIRL'S NECK BROKEN.

Helen Lewis of Andover, Mass., Victim of Auto Overturn.

Andover, Mass., Nov. 9.—Miss Helen Lewis, aged 19, daughter of H. Bradford Lewis of this town, a prominent Lawrence manufacturer, was almost instantly killed in an automobile accident on the Reading road late yesterday afternoon, when the touring car of ex-Senator Joseph J. Flynn of Lawrence, in which she was riding with Miss Josephine Flynn, aged 20, skidded and overturned.

Both Miss Lewis and Miss Flynn were thrown out, the former's neck being broken by the fall. Miss Flynn was rendered unconscious and was removed to the Lawrence General hospital, where she was placed on the dangerous list.

Miss Lewis was one of Andover's best known young women, being prominent in social circles.

The chauffeur, Leo Danforth, surrendered himself to the police and was released on his own recognizance. He was out about the legs and hands.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Miss Grace Smith returned to her home in Richmond to-day, after visiting friends on South Main street during the past week.

Since the hospital lag day, numerous gifts of necessary articles have been brought in, the most recent about a dozen additional bags from East Barre, which the Woman's Hospital Aid wishes in this way to acknowledge.

Mrs. Ellen Dutton, mother of Miss Abbie Alvord, who only a few weeks ago resigned her position in the Homer Falls store to accept another position in Northfield, died in that place Monday night at the age of 74 years. She had been gradually failing for some time and two weeks ago suffered a shock from which she never rallied. A son, Frank Alvord, also survives. The funeral was held this afternoon.
